Metegrity launches new products and services...

May 17, 2016 - Metegrity Inc. is pleased to announce the launch of our new website that incorporates the Visions Enterprise® risk based mechanical asset integrity & reliability software with our new products - Pipeline Enterprise® for construction of the pipeline and VisionsGo® for mobility. All our solutions are unique and are available on premise or as a cloud based service to help owner operators get access to quality software at a significantly lower cost.

Through our new website, we can demonstrate our global reach and a new set of complimentary solutions from construction to decommissioning. These capabilities will help process manufacturing industries with pipelines, fixed and rotating equipment get enterprise level quality management systems to manage their assets from the weld all the way through the entire equipment lifecycle.

"Through our new website, we want to expose the extent of our new products and services to owner operators and to our partners. We have been at the forefront of the asset integrity market since its inception and we continue to build new solutions to address the challenges our customers face every day."

Adrian Met, CEO at Metegrity Inc.
